

Thermador Partners with Molon to Showcase Luxury Kitchens at High Point

LEADING APPLIANCE manufacturer, Thermador, based in Huntington Beach, CA, joined renowned Italian manufacturer of classic European style furniture, Francesco Molon, to create a vision of the classic luxury kitchen as they presented their latest product lineups at the High Point International Furnishings Market, October 14-20, 2004.

Francesco Molon debuted two custom kitchen vignettes reflecting classic French and Tuscan styles and equipped with the newest collection of Thermador wall ovens and Professional Series products in its North American showroom.

"The kitchen is frequently the focal point of the home and family, and we wanted our kitchen vignettes to convey the warmth and romance of our furniture designs," says Woods Dixon, Vice President of Sales & Marketing with Francesco Molon. "Our goal was to create an experiential environment and Thermador was integral to that by incorporating their exceptional appliances."

The Francesco Molon French and Tuscan kitchens display custom pieces that can be completely manufactured according to client specifications featuring many finish options, such as antique paint techniques combined with exotic woods.
